I was a girlscout in the late 80s early 90s and I remember parts of songs we used to sing at camp. The songs were fun and I wanted some silly songs to sing to my infant twins. The problem is I only remember a line or two and not the rest of the songs....like "the green grass grew all around" or "sippin' cider" or "an Austrian went yodeling on a mountain", but alas the fun songs I wanted are not in this book. I will tell you what is included so you know before ordering. America, America the Beautiful, Bell Song, The Boston Come-All Ye, The Caravan Song, Covered Wagon Song, Dakota Hymn, Dona Nobis Pacem, Ego Sum Pauper, El Coqui, The Erie Canal (one I remember), The Far Northland, Fare Thee Well, Gelobet, Girlscouts Together, Going to leave Ol' Texas, Invocation For Girl Scouts, Hello! Hello!, Jennie Jenkins, Kee-Chee, The Land We Call Home, Look Wider Still, Make New Friends, Music Shall Live, My Home's in Montana, Navajo Happy Song, Night-Herding Song, O Beautiful Banner, Our Cabana Song, Our Chalet Song, PNW girl Scout Regional Song, Peace, A Poor and Carefree Stranger, Rise Up O Flame, Rolling Home, Rosen Fra Fuhn, Sandpiper, Shenandoah, Song of Departure, Song of the big Tree Region, Song of the Cactus Region, Song of the Great Lakes Region, Song of the Southland, Song Without Words, The Star Spangled Banner, The Sun Worshiper, Swing Low Sweet Chariot, Swinging Along, Tancuj, Taps, There We Would Be, Travler's Grace, Whene'er You Make A Promise, Where Go The Boats, Who Loves The Rain, Zum Gali Gali.0 of

By Silimom
This is a great pocket songbook with the traditional Girl Scout songs that are an important part of our scouting heritage. If you're looking for camp songs, I recommend you purchase the Melinda Carroll girl scout cd's and songbooks. Also, you can find a lot of camp songs online. Just google "Camp songs" or "Girl Scout Camp Songs" and you'll get resources from both girl and boy scouts.

By Carla H.
Even though I'm 29 now, these songs still resonate with me. This book is recommended not only for Brownies, their parents, and their leaders, but also for anyone who works with children, and is tired of singing "Itsy Bitsy Spider".
