Thank you!

Bella and Pablo love Easter egg hunts. So many wonderful goodies just waiting to be found inside each egg! But the brother and sister are about to discover theres much more to Easter than candy and toys, as they embark on a very special Easter egg hunt that will reveal all of Gods greatest gifts to us. Each egg Bella and Pablo find has a unique and beautiful design, and contains within it one of the seven treasures we are all given, a description of sweet truth about the gifts of friendship, family, nature, strength and life itself!

About the AuthorBrenda Castro works as a librarian and technology teacher at a Catholic elementary school. Her love for teaching and her passion for books inspired her to write Gods Easter Gifts. In her debut work, she wanted to tell a story that would teach children that, even though Easter is fun, there is a much deeper meaning to this holy day and the journey toward the Resurrection begins forty days earlier on Ash Wednesday. It is Brendas hope that, through this story, children will come to understand all the ways God blesses us throughout the year and surrounds us with His love everyday through all the gifts He gives us. Brenda lives in Glendale, Arizona, with her husband and three children. She graduated from Arizona State University with a bachelors degree in education. In her spare time, she enjoys crocheting, hiking and reading to her children.
