Brian Griffith : Leadership Fallen before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Leadership Fallen:

God used a young boy named David, armed with a sling and 5 stones in defeating the giant, Goliath. He chose Moses, a stuttering nomad wandering the mountains of Sinai in leading Israel from Egypt. God chooses the simple things of the earth in confounding the wise. He knows our weaknesses and he asks us to overcome them in achieving great accomplishments. Moses resisted God claiming his stuttering prevented him from grasping the destiny God envisioned. Moses trusting in God, overcame his speech impediment becoming one of the greatest leaders in history. As for myself, I was a bashful child that struggled with grammar and writing. I was also terrified of public speaking throughout my youth. Looking back on my life, I can see God's steady hand, placing me in leadership situations where I was required to face my weaknesses and fears. When I trusted in my own wisdom and strength, I failed miserably. When I obeyed God and proceeded with absolute faith that he would see me through, I succeeded. By the time God placed this burden on my heart to share Leadership Fallen, I had learned his strength was far greater than my weaknesses. Through all of my life's endeavors, God had given me an incredible awareness and understanding of leadership. Leadership Fallen explores the epic struggle between good and evil, in a leadership context. It explains why life and leadership are difficult prospects to begin with. It details how various sinful behaviors negatively impact leadership and result in hypocrisy and disengagement for those we lead. I promise you with complete certainty, if you understand the leadership pitfalls and antidotal Biblical principles in this book and apply them to your leadership efforts, you will achieve greater success in life and leadership.
